REST ROOM FOR WOMEN OPEN MONDAY

Long Needed Assembly Room for Business Women Secured

EVERYTHING READY

General Invitation to All Business Women Is Issued

Monday, for the first time in the history of Glendale, a business women's rest room and lunching place will make its bow to the public, in a most attractive apartment in the Coker & Taylor building, upstairs, at 209½ South Brand.

The club rooms, which the Glendale Business and Professional Women's club have undertaken to provide, will be open from 11 a. m. to 7 p. m., and lunches will be served from 11 to 2.

Every business woman in the city is invited to be a visitor and get acquainted with this institution, which should mean so much to the bachelor maids and matrons of the local business world.

The house committee of the Business and Professional Women's club, of which Mrs. Walton is chairman, will be present to welcome all comers and explain the various forms of memberships from the monthly privilege tickets at 25 cents to the honorary memberships at $10 a year.

The best way to get acquainted with the aims and privileges of this institution is to visit it, and it is hoped that business women generally will respond to the invitation.

CROOKE CAPTAIN'S NERVE SAVED BIG SEA TRAGEDY

With 1000 Passengers on Board He Fights to Keep Boat Going

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—How Captain Joseph J. Reppa commanding his first vessel at sea, brought the army transport Crooke safely home to port through terrific storms after the vessel sprung a serious leak, was told today when the Crooke docked with 1,000 doughboys from the Rhine, 14 German brides and 642 bodies of American soldiers.

The Crooke docked today after being escorted up the bay by tugs and boats containing relatives of the returning soldiers and city officials. Highest praise of Captain Reppa, who kept all knowledge of the danger from his passengers and from most of the crew, was given by Captain Walter Bernard, marine superintendent of the United States transport service.

Captain Reppa had never before been in command of a vessel.

The Atlantic voyage had scarcely started before the Crooke ran into heavy storms which increased in violence as she plowed her way slowly westward. Tuesday morning Captain Reppa, who had been taking soundings every 15 minutes as an additional precaution, instead of twice a day as was customary, noticed that there was 18 inches of water in number one hold at 10 o'clock. At noon this had increased to 22 inches.

Realizing that the transport was in serious danger, Captain Reppa informed Chief Engineer Charles E. Burkguist and Chief Officer Holck of the situation and ordered them not to let the troops or the passengers know of the danger.

Crime Is Illogical and Foolish Asserts Jas. W. Foley Tonight

Occasionally James W. Foley writes about crime. This is rare. When he does he has something to say that is of impelling interest. This evening in "The Listening Post" he deals with this subject. "Deeds," he says, "are related in the imagination to consequences. Crime is silly, illogical and foolish. The trading away of years of possibly happy life for a mere pittance of money. A cowardly thing."

Henry James tells how presidents are made. He recounts an incident in the life of Senator Penrose where from a sick bed he directed the throwing of the convention for Harding. Mr. James believes that in this there is food for serious reflection.

Dr. Frank Crane says in his column on the editorial page something about the essentials of marriage. He finds six things that are outstanding. It will interest you to read what he has to offer.

Brilliant editorials, features and wise sayings, poetry and scientific facts are to be found on the editorial page this evening, truly a remarkable offering for any newspaper to place before its readers.

Sergeant-Major Herschel S. Lander visited Glendale this morning to advertise the affair and stated that tickets, which will be sold at 50 cents and $1, can be had at the headquarters of the national guard companies in this city, on North Brand. Glendale has several veterans of the Spanish-American war, among whom are Irving S. Oliver and Dr. William C. Mabry.

AL JENNINGS IN BAD ONCE MORE?

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 14.—Al Jennings, reformed bandit and train robber, was trailed by authorities once again today. Kerr alleged Jennings had been alienating the affections of his wife and threatened to kill him when he protested.

The other half she would wait a year and a half for and pay her board out of the meagre amount.

NEW OFFICERS AT POSTS IN LEGION OF GLENDALE

Dwight Stephenson Made Fine Address on Ideals of Legion

New officers of the Glendale Post of the American Legion were installed Friday night. All appointments were made by Commander James F. McBryde.

When the meeting opened, Past Commander E. O. Kiefer was in the chair. Dwight B. Stephenson was called upon to act as installation officer, and before charging the new officers with their duties, he made a brief address to the members in which he told of the Legion's vision. The substance of his talk was that the American Legion vision is "For God and for country, for the perpetuation of the memories of the world war and for civic betterment."

He said that the Legion stands for the constitution of the United States and that means that the organization is for the constitution in its entirety including prohibition. He continued that the Legion is not a reform school and is not attempting to reform the individual, but as it is for upholding the constitution, and as prohibition is a part of the constitution, the Legion is ready to back it up.

After Mr. Stephenson completed his talk, he called the new officers and charged each, in turn, with his duties. The officers took their various station and Past Commander Keifer turned the gavel over to Commander McBryde.

One of the first duties of the new commander was to make the appointments, which were: Chaplain, Rev. Harley G. Preston; organist, J. C. Padelford; assistant organist, Charles G. Gibbs; inner guard, Henry Prussing; soloist, Comrade Lewis; membership committee,

The indicted men were arrested and charged with having been members of an extensive bootlegging ring that operated in Los Angeles, Glendale and other parts of Southern California.

INTENSE OPPOSITION TO PLAN ANNEXING GLENDALE TO CITY OF LOS ANGELES

Hornet's Nest of Protest Arises When Report Is Circulated That Los Angeles Is Trying to Take in City of Glendale

SEVERAL CITIZENS ARE VIOLENTLY OPPOSED

Declare Other Cities That Have Gone in With Los Angeles Are Now Sick of Their Action and Wish They Were "Back Home"

The attempts of a group of citizens apparently anxious to have this city annexed to Los Angeles will fail if a majority of the business men and women have anything to do with the proposition, and it is a certainty that they will. This fact was evident today in an interview with C. E. Neale of Neale & Gregg.

Mr. Neale stated that if Glendale goes into Los Angeles it will be in the same predicament that all other annexed towns are in, more taxes and less return for the money. Lankershim and Van Nuys, in the San Fernando valley, are two examples of annexation that are close to home. The streets in these towns are worse today than they ever were before annexation. Sawtelle, San Pedro, Palms and other towns that listened to the call of the annexationist and merged with Los Angeles all have the same tale to tell, a tale of broken promises, street work that has never materialized and an increased taxes to pay. These towns are heartily sick of their bargains. Glendale will be in the same boat if annexed to Los Angeles.

Glendale has today an independent government that is progressive and the city is showing a spirit of progress and advancement that is not evidenced in any other city of Southern California," said Mr. Neale. "By annexing to Los Angeles we would give this progress to that city and get nothing in return. Not only would we get nothing in return but Glendale's progress would be killed the day annexation became effective. Annexation and civic death are synonymous when applied to a city and the business people of Glendale have worked too hard and long to establish the progressive spirit in Glendale and then sit by and vote for annexation to Los Angeles."

Henry M. Butts of the Monarch Auto Supply Co., expressed his views of annexation to Los Angeles in one word. He said, "Preposterous," when told that plans were afoot to revive the scheme. He said: "The whole situation can be summed up in a few words: It would be a case of giving something for nothing. Glendale would trade her civic development and progress for an opportunity to as-

Glendale Would Shoulder Big Part of Bonded Debt If Merged With Los Angeles

"In the event of annexation of Glendale to Los Angeles this city would have to assume its share of the bonded indebtedness of Los Angeles amounting to $52,351,000, while at the same time Los Angeles would not assume any of Glendale's bonded indebtedness, amounting to only $746,750. In other words, in a union of this kind Glendale has everything to lose and nothing to gain."

This assertion was made this morning by Asa Hall of 636 North Louise street. Mr. Hall is in a position to know what he is talking about. He was for 14 years head bookkeeper and chief accountant of the auditing department of Los Angeles. During the past few years he had charge of adding to the tax bills of the outlying territories annexed to Los Angeles the respective percentages of the bonded indebtedness of Los Angeles that each locality is compeled to carry. Therefore he knows how these annexed sections are assisting in the payment of the bills contracted by the larger city as they come due, along with the interest on the outstanding bonds.

The bonded indebtedness that Glendale would have to assume her share of, runs back as far as 1905, when the "preliminary" water bonds were voted, and she would have to "dig up" for her share of all the bonds voted by Los Angeles since that time, with the exception of the main sewer bonds that were voted in 1906.

The Los Angeles bonded indebtednes is divided into the following units:

Water works bonds, voted 1905	$ 862,500
Water works bonds, voted 1907	17,586,400
Electric plant bonds, voted 1910	2,925,000
Harbor Improvement bonds, voted 1910	2,175,000
Harbor bonds, voted in 1913	1,928,000
Electric plant bonds, voted 1914	5,500,000
Harbor Improvement bonds, voted 1919	4,275,000
Electric plant bonds, voted 1919	13,500,000
Library bonds, voted 1921	2,500,000

In addition to these there are $2,500,000 library bonds that were voted a short time ago and something like $11,000,000 electric light plant bonds that were voted in 1919 and which are being held up by court proceedings. The tax on the latter bonds amounted, two years ago, to 18 cents per $100 valuation.

A careful perusal of the above figures would sem to indicate that Los Angeles needs help. She is over her head and is striving frantically for assistance. The question seems to be, "Is Glendale willing to 'dig up' for benefits she can never ecive?"

Glendale's bonded indebtedness is divided up as follows:

Fire bonds, No. 1	$ 3,250
Fire bonds, No. 2	16,000
Fire bonds, No. 3	14,000
Tropico fire bonds	20,000
City hall and library	10,500
Street improvement bonds	1,000
Park and Recreation	22,000
Electric light, No. 1	42,000
Electric Light, No. 2	26,000
Water works bonds	232,000
Combination water and light	260,000
Water works, electric	100,000

Should Glendale join Los Angeles the local tax rate would auto-

COMMITTEE MADE INVESTIGATION SEWER PLANS

Report Made to Council on Findings of That Body

The sewer committee appointed by the former council of Glendale has made a formal report of the findings of that body in regards to the disposal of sewage. This report was made after the body visited several cities in Southern California that have installed disposal systems.

Following is the committee's report as signed by F. H. Vesper, chairman:

"At the request of Mr. Reeves for a report of the committee who were appointed by the former council to investigate and report on any plan for the disposition of sewage that should be submitted to the council, would say that no fully completed system was ever presented to the committee for approval or disapproval, and at the last called meeting an adjournment was made without any definite action.

"However, at the meeting with your honorable body Monday night and yesterday afternoon, as was explained by the members present that sub-committees had visited the different cities in Southern California and examined their various plants, and believe that a gravity system that would take raw sewage to as low a point as was obtainable and there separate the solids from the liquids, using the first as fertilizer if practicable, or, if not, to cremate the same and to run the liquids through an activated sludge tank which, with additional treatment, would make it absolutely inoffensive. After this investigation and conclusion, the members present yesterday replied to the questions of the Council:

"First: That it was their belief that the time was here for a general sewer system to be started, one member qualifying by limiting to the business section only.

"Second. That a tract of land should be purchased or condemned, if necessary, on which to locate the disposal plant for treatment as above and disposition of solids and liquids."

Henry P. Fletcher Selected as Belgian Envoy

Announcement of the selection of Henry P. Fletcher, under secretary of state, as Ambassador to Belgium, was hinted as imminent in official quarters in Washington. Mr. Fletcher would succeed Brand Whitlock, who has been the American Ambassador to Brussels.

EVIL INFLUENCES ARE STILL ON JOB SAYS M'ALPINE

Declares There Is No Truth in Report of Reconciliation

RENO, Nev., Jan. 14.—Reynolds P. McAlpine, member of a wealthy Rochester, N. Y. family, today denied statements attributed to Mrs. McAlpine in Los Angeles that a reconciliation had been effected between her and McAlpine.

"Such a thing is impossible," he declared. "The report is untrue."

McAlpine evidenced that he had no immediate intention of returning to his wife by announcing he was negotiating for the purchase of a ranch and also has been advertising for a suitable bungalow which, he says, he desires to purchase.

"I am wintering in Nevada, at Reno, to get away from climatic conditions in California," he said. "I am also looking for a ranch to try and live on as I have not been allowed to do in California on account of unfair persecution.

"The report concerning a reconciliation is untrue because such a thing is impossible. There has been no cause on my part for such a statement to be published. As there has never been any separation there can be no reconciliation. The evil influence Mrs. McAlpine speaks of still exists and until it is eliminated there can be no happiness in the McAlpine family."

JACKASS BRANDY TAKES OFF SIXTY

Voting Strength of State Reduced by Bad Liquor

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14.—Sixty persons died in California during the year of 1921 from alcoholism, according to figures compiled here today by L. E. Ross, statistician of the state board of health. During the year of 1920 the total number of deaths was 35, according to Ross' figures.

The great number of deaths is due to the sale of illicit liquor, Ross' figures show. Jackass brandy and bootleg whiskey are blamed for the alcoholism deaths. The greatest number of deaths from alcoholism in 1921 took place in September when 12 succumbed. January, 1921, also showed a large number of deaths from this cause.

TRY TO EXTEND USE OF MAGNESIA

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—The Mellon Institute here is seeking to extend the usese of magnesia, and one of its discoveries may prove a boon to the rubber industry.

H. W. Greider, specializing in magnesia products, declared that when used in suitable proportion, magnesium carbonate greatly increased the strength of compound rubber.

"In addition to making it tougher and less flexible, carbonate of magnesia increases the total energy of the resilience of rubber," he said. "Experimental work has shown that the addition of 20 parts of magnesium conate to one hundred parts rubber will increase the resilient energy about 50 per cent, and produce a corresponding increase in resistance to wear."

ON LAST LAP PEACE PACT OF PACIFIC IN WASHINGTON

Every Chance to Prepare Against Future Wars Says Balfour

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The naval disarmament treaty is to all purposes and intents finished. This historic document, awaiting only a little burnishing nad disposition of the Pacific fortification limitation clause and a pair of minor matters, will probably go early next week to the full disarmament committee for its approval and thence to a plenary session for an open O. K. by the five powers.

Arthur J. Balfour is known to hope that the beginnings of a new world peace era have been established. He believes that it is "incumbent on mankind in time of peace" to lay down rules, to establish machinery for settling disputes and otherwise to prepare against war.

He regards it well to "lay down rules which will so permeate the conscience of mankind" that the "great crimes committed in the last war will not find any imitators in the future."

Conclusion of this work leaves the path open to Far Eastern topics. Shantung was the order of business today.

The Chinese served notice they intend to press for a discussion of the 21 demands. If the Japanese, as they intend, refuse discussion thereof and the conference supports this stand, the Chinese will ask for a frank statement of reasons.

As to Siberia, a topic still on the agenda, the British spokesman said:

"It really never has been raised. To the best of my knowledge, no proposal thereon has yet been made by the Americans."

The British, however, are more hopeful as to Shantung, sharing in that respect the optimism of the American group.

STUDENT BODY IN ITS ANNUAL PARTY

Interclass Games Start Ball of Fun Rolling Early Last Night

The annual stag party of boys of the student body of Glendale high and men of the faculty was held Friday evening at the school, and yielded a hilarious good time that could be heard for several blocks at times.

It began in the two gymnasiums, where inter-class games of basket and cage ball were played, the juniors soaking up most of the honors. They were matched against the seniors in both basket and cage ball and won in each game. Sophomores and freshmen were matched, the freshmen winning in basketball and the sophomores in cage ball. The juniors then played these winning teams and won in both encounters. This completed the game portion of the program.

The audience thereupon adjourned to the school auditorium, where exhibitions of boxing were put on by Tom Morgan and Walter Sullivan, Paul Hutchinson and Fred Terzo. A wrestling bout was staged by Paul Holland and Dave Griffith.

Merle Waterman of Long Beach then gave a juggling and sleight-of-hand performance, ending with a pianologue, and Coach Butterfield entertained with a monologue.

The audience, numbering about 500, adjourned again to the cafeteria, where pie a la mode was served by the refreshment committee.

SOLDIER BONUS TO BE PAID WITH NO EXTRA TAXES

Republicans Have Plan to Make Good to Service Men

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The United States will pay a soldier bonus without one cent of additional taxation upon the people, under plans republican leaders in congress were working on today.

This plan calls for paying the bonus with interest on the foreign debt or by the sale of bonds issued against collection of the war debt principal.

"The proposal that the foreign debt be used to pay the bonus undoubtedly would be adopted, if it proves feasible, and I believe it will," Representative Fordney, chairman of the house ways and means committee, told the United Press today. "President Harding is in favor of the plan and has personally commended it to the committee."

The first step in the bonus program will be the enactment of the foreign debt refunding bill, already passed by the house and shortly to be taken up in the senate. On the heels of the debt bill's passage, the house will bring out the bonus measure, pass it in short order and send it to the senate.

The bonus bill, as now planned, will carry no means of raising revenue, merely stating that payments are to be made from the foreign debt. Under this plan, administration leaders doubt if payments of the bonus can be started before late next year.

OAKLAND, Jan. 14.—It has remained for Miss Mary Ide Bentley, former Y. W. C. A. secretary to attempt the definition of the term "flapper."

"A flapper," according to Miss Bentley, is a girl who "believes personality is physical; a girl who considers all advice as abstract; who is in love with a continual change, and who converses in generalities."

There are two kinds of flappers, she said, passive and intense.

It is difficult to set one spring exactly to match the other, so if you want to obtain exact results it is best to have both springs set at the one time. The slight increase in cost is worth while when you have a good car.

SUNSET MOTOR CO. OPENS DOORS HERE

A new automobile firm in Glendale is the Sunset Motor company, which also has branches in Hollywood and Santa Monica. The Glendale store of this company is located at 208 East Colorado boulevard, from which place the Paige and Dort automobiles will be distributed and at which place the troubles of the owners of these cars in Glendale, Burbank, Eagle Rock and the entire San Fernando valley will be gladly taken care of.

Every owner of a Dort or Paige in "these parts" will be glad to know that there is someone right on the job anxious to take care of their occasional needs. The proprietors of this establishment say it is absolutely no trouble to show goods. They believe that the cars they are handling will bear the strictest investigation. That is why they want to meet all their old friends and also to make a host of new ones. Motorists in general know that from every point of view the cars handled by this company are "right up to the minute" and will stand up year after year.

E. E. Sawyer, formerly of the Hollywood branch of this concern, will have complete charge of the Glendale branch. Mr. Sawyer is thoroughly acquainted with the machines he is handling and he KNOWS they are right.

RESOLUTIONS FOR ALL AUTOISTS

If you are a motorist of Glendale and if you have not decided upon a set of auto resolutions for 1922, maybe the following will serve as suggestions:

I will keep my tires correctly inflated and to do this will procure a tire gauge.

I will test my batteries regularly with a good hydrometer.

I will keep my car clean and shiny with the use of chamois and good auto polish.

I will learn how to make simple repairs on my car by studying a good book on automobile repairing.

I will fit my car out with reliable tools, pump and jack.

I will at all times carry a tow line.

I will protect my car with front and rear bumpers.

I will procure a spotlight for night driving and a flashlight or trouble lamp for night repairing.

I will not leave signaling to chance, but will equip my car with an efficient signaling device.

I will grease my car regularly.

I will not guess at oil or gasoline, but will install gauges which will tell me accurately the amount of each.

I will equip my car with correct headlight lenses.

I will have a good horn and use it frequently.

I will equip my car with dependable brake lining and keep my brakes properly adjusted.

EXIDE MEN WILL ATTEND BIG MEET

"Of course we are all going to attend the meeting of the Exide men of Southern California which will be held in Los Angeles Monday and Tuesday," said H. M. Parker of the Autolectric Service company, 113 West Harvard street, this morning. "This meeting will be held for the benefit of all Exide men and action will be taken which will doubtless result in bigger business for the Exide agencies.

"How is business? Fine! Never was better. As a rule, January is a slow month, but for the last 14 days we have been kept moving every minute. Probably this is because the motorists of Glendale are striving more for quality than for cheapness. The Exide is not the cheapest so far as first cost is concerned, but in the long run there is no battery that can touch it."

Don't Bother

with the second-raters. When your car needs repairing or "slicking up" take it to a strictly modern auto hospital.

It is cheaper to have your car repaired in our shop where an iron-clad guarantee safeguards you against shoddy material and poor workmanship. We treat you courteously.

It would be a pleasure to us to be permitted to serve you.

SPEED NOT WORST ENEMY OF TRAFFIC

Are auto accidents in this country directly traceable to the leniency of the laws governing motor vehicles? This vital question in motordom has arisen as the result of reports submitted to the Automobile club of Southern California by various justices who are engaged in trying to sentence autoists to terms in jail and discovering in the process that they are handicapped by the laws.

The leniency of the law in allowing a motorist caught speeding to have five days of grace before appearing in court, instead of being taken at once to the police station as would be done with a man caught stealing chickens or planting a bomb under the orphanage, is one of the worst features of the present law, according to reports received by the Auto club.

"Speed," strange as it may seem to the reader, is not the "worst boy" in the school of auto accidents. In fact there are many other causes contributing vitally to the delinquency of the accident records.

It's the little things that count particularly, according to the judges handing out jail sentences at the present time. Minor evasions of the law cause some of the worst accidents, it is pointed out, and yet the law itself does not provide for jail sentences to be administered in the cases of these more minor offenses. Amend the laws, cry the judges, and help to stop accidents.

However, 1922 is going to be a "mean" year for the motoring speedster, and for the minor offender, for throughout Southern California the courts of justice have uniformly agreed, according to word sent the Automobile Club to hand out sentences which will have the sting of a lash in them.

LICENSE PLATES PUT ON RIGHT

In the rush of getting your state licenses for the new year, Mr. Motorist, don't forget to place them correctly on your car. This final word of warning, before the big rush begins, was just sent out by the touring board bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Many motorists place their new license plates in an unlawful manner on their cars, and the state department is going to make many arrests for this offense during the coming year, according to advices received by auto club officials.

See that your license plates are not obscured by the bumpers, front or rear, when you place them. Be sure, warns the club that the taillight is in such a position that it illuminates the rear plate at night.

Keep your plates clean and avoid driving with them in a smashed or obliterated condition because you will be pinched if you do. Aid in following the mandates of the law will be given you by the club experts when you apply for license applications and receive the plates.

CARLOAD OF CARS FOR OLDS PEOPLE

A carload of Oldsmobiles has been received by J. C. Pollock, manager of the Oldsmobile agency, 208 West Broadway, and deliveries to those making reservations during the past few days are now being made. In addition to filling these orders Mr. Pollock states that he is now ready to fill orders in models 43 and 47, including both closed and open machines.

While the prices of other machines are being dropped Mr. Pollock states that the prices of the Oldsmobile are going to remain right where they are. One of the leading Oldsmobile mechanics in this part of the country is now being retained by Mr. Pollock and is taking care of the repair of the Oldsmobile owners in Glendale and vicinity.

"From the number of inquiries that we are receiving daily the winter automobile buying season must be on," said Mr. Pollock this morning. "The calls for machines are increasing daily, with a leaning more and more toward the closed car. We are more than pleased with the way 1922 has started out. The prospects for the future are certainly bright."

If the oil grooves in the bushings become clogged, the oil will not be able to reach the surfaces which need it. The use of an excess quantity of graphite sometimes serves to produce this condition.

RELIABILITY

is our "middle name," as they say. Our aim is to be known as the auto mechanics who can be relied upon. We do all our work with this aim in view and by the patronage we are receiving we know that the motorists of Glendale appreciate this kind of service.

We will not deviate in the least from this method of doing business. Every job we turn out will be complete to the last detail before it leaves our shop. We know this way of treating the public will continue to win out. Motorists, like everyone else, know when they are fairly treated. We realize this and are determined to give every customer a "square deal."

Let us take care of your auto needs.

WONDERFUL STORY HERE ON SUNDAY

"Lavender and Old Lace" to Be at Glendale Theater

Sunday is going to be a great day at the Glendale theater. Tonight there will be five standard acts of vaudeville, the best of the season, Manager Howe declares, and tomorrow "Lavender and Old Lace" will be the feature picture.

"Lavender and Old Lace," the screen version of Myrtle Reed's world-famous book, has been made into a picture for Hodkinson release, splendidly enacted by an all-star cast which includes Seena Owen, Marguerite Snow and Louis Bennison, it will draw from you many a smile and many a tear.

It is estimated that fifty million people have read "Lavender and Old Lace." It has been a "best seller" over a very long period of years because it is clean, sweet and, above all, human. And all those qualities are retained in the production.

Humor, pathos, drama and suspense are all included in the picture. A marvelous cast, which includes Seena Owen, Marguerite Snow and Louis Bennison, enact the story upon the screen.

"Lavender and Old Lace", has been called "the story that will never die," for in it are embodied all the elements of everlasting popularity. It is tragic and gay—serious and light. In picture form it will prove a veritable source of delight to everyone.

Lloyd Ingraham, who directed a majority of the Douglas MacLean-Doris May comedies, was chosen by the Renco Film company to wield the megaphone for their picturization of "Lavender and Old Lace." And a splendid job he made of it! He created one of the finest and most entertaining productions ever brought to the screen.

CROOKE IN PORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The army transport Crooke, which sprang a leak several days ago while fighting heavy seas in the Atlantic, arrived safely today at pier 2, army base, Brooklyn. The Crooke, which brought nearly 1000 doughboys from the Rhine, and many of their wives, came into dock on an even keel, showing little sign of its troublesome voyage.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Adv.

OPPOSITION TO ANNEXATION

sist Los Angeles in paying off her debts.

"Annexationists say that if we merge with Los Angeles the street car service will be improved. The best answer to this is to visit the other towns that have annexed on the same promise, Lankershim and Van Nuys, for instance. Those cities were promised better car service and are still waiting. The promise of improved telephone service and lower rates is the same. It is a promise that will never be fulfilled."

The only proposition that was even mildly interesting to Glendale is the much needed sewer system that would be possible by using the Los Angeles mains. This promise has already been recalled before it was really a promise. Los Angeles, through her engineers and sewer committee declared herself when it was said that the sewer system of that city is inadequate for their needs without the added burden of outlying territory.

"Other cities were promised additional water supply should they annex to Los Angeles. They annexed and are still trying to get the water. Glendale fortunately is not in need of additional water, so the promise of an extra supply carries no weight here. In the event of annexation there will be an occupational tax for the merchants and business men and women to pay, which is a tax for the privilege of being a part of that city and helping to pay off the city's bonded debt.

"The above are only a few of my reasons for opposing annexation. Another reason, and one of the greatest is the fact that Glendale, without the aid of Los Angeles or any other city, has shown such development that in the past few years it has gained the reputation of being the fastest growing city in the southwest. Glendale is just breaking the barriers and emerging into an era of development that will in a few years make it one of the leading cities of the southwest. She is doing it without the help of any other city or outside power, other than the spirit of progress that is in the breast of every business man in the city, and why should this progress and advancement be traded to Los Angeles for nothing but promises that will not be kept?"

Julius Kranz said today that he is not in favor of annexing to Los Angeles at this time. Glendale does not need help from Los Angeles and there is no indication of this city ever needing the help offered by the annexationists. If it is needed, then is the time to start the talk of annexing. This city has a good municipal government, giving satisfaction in the main and is not increasing the bonded debt. We have all of the water we need. The only thing that Los Angeles ever had that Glendale really needed is help in the sewer situation, and in-as-much as through the Los Angeles sewer commission that city has declared itself as unable to care for its own sewage, much less to help outside territory, there is absolutely no reason for this city merging.

"It would be a shame for Glendale to sacrifice its municipally owned water and power system. That is what would be done through annexation. Our tax rate is lower than any other city in the south and I believe that as the city grows, the taxes will decrease.

"I am in favor of remaining independent and waiting until our system is either a failure or a success. If it is a success, and there is no reason for it to be otherwise, then there is no reason for annexation, and if it is a failure, then there will be ample time to talk of annexing to Los Angeles, but not until then."

Dave Crofton is another Glendale merchant who is in favor of this city remaining an independent municipality. He said:

"Glendale is big enough to get along without the help of Los Angeles and there is no reason for trading our advancement and progress to Los Angeles for an opportunity to assist in paying off that city's bonded debt.

"Now that Los Angeles has declared itself as unable to help Glendale in the matter of sewage disposal, were she so inclined, the last argument in favor of annexation has been removed, and I am in favor of remaining independent and retaining our title as the fastest growing city in the southwest. Our city government is good and is working for the best interests of the city, so why trade it for a small voice in the government of Los Angeles?"

BUSINESS GROWS MOST RAPIDLY

"When a firm's business increases day by day there is a reason for the increase," said Wm. P. Heal, automobile mechanic, located at the rear of the T. D. & L. theater, this morning. "Since opening our doors our business has grown gradually until now it has reached a point where we have about all we can do. We attribute this increase to our method of treating customers. We apply the Golden Rule to every job. We give the man with the small piece of work just as courteous and considerate treatment as we do the fellow who wants a complete overhauling job done. In fact, we treat every man alike.

"As far as our work is concerned, we let every job speak for itself. We do every piece of work as we believe it should be done. There is no hurry-up work done in our shop. We positively will not 'slight' any job. Our work is done in a thorough manner or not at all. The motto of this firm is: 'Every job a better job.'"

Truths in Epigram

An object in possession seldom retains the same charm that it had in pursuit.—Pliny the Younger (61-105 A. D.).

Difficulties are things that show what men are.—Epictetus (60 A. D.).

He used to say that it was better to have one friend of great value than many friends who were good for nothing.—Laertius (200 A. D.).

CONTROLLING THE EARTH

One of these days (remarks a writer) men will control the winds, control cold currents from the north and hot currents from the south and "change the badly regulated motions of the earth that cause too much ice in one place and too hot weather at the equator."

In a following paragraph he adds: "Whatever men imagine, they can do, and you couldn't imagine them living on this earth for the next thousand years without controlling it. They won't always be savages."

Voliva, head crank of a crank colony, proclaims that the globe is flat. His followers, sodden in their ignorance, may believe him. People of intelligence laugh at him, or pity him, or think him unworthy of notice. Yet Voliva in the wildest exaltation of his frenzy never uttered anything more foolish than the product quoted. If a disordered intellect leads Voliva into fantasy, what has led the more highly educated person who professes to believe that the race, emerging from savagery, is to control the movements of the earth?

It doubtless is true that men will accomplish much that now seems impossible. Human faculties, however, have limitations. One may imagine that he can fly to the stars. He cannot fly to the stars. Man has learned to fly a little. He has not learned to sustain himself in a void that is barren of the air on which he lives. He never can learn how to cover in his brief span of existence, distances that a ray of light takes years to traverse. There are undertakings that seem impossible, and yet are not impossible. There are visionary schemes that are impossible of realization. The writer quoted above is possessed of some of them.

Slowly man is discovering the laws that govern the universe. He is not discovering how to create laws to amend or supplant the original. He is able to predict the solar eclipse. To think himself able to retard or hasten its coming, would argue his insanity.

The whole silly preachment mentioned was due to the fact that Amundsen is about to go again into the Arctic. Doubtless the explorer will come in contact with large quantities of ice. Human judgment might, indeed, deem the abundance of ice superfluous in part. Human judgment would remain helpless to devise or apply corrective methods. Some day nature may set the icecap adrift, geology showing that it has acted in such manner. Man couldn't set it adrift, nor could he stop it were it to start upon its travels.

It might be advisable for the able citizen who expects mankind to control the earth—involving control of the whole solar system—to turn to the Psalms. There he may find these words, significant as at the time they became of record:

"Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite.

"Who covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains.

"He giveth snow like wool: he scattereth the hoar frost like ashes.

"He castest forth his ice like morsels: who can stand before his cold?

"He sendeth out his word and melteth them; he causeth his wind to blow and the waters to flow."

STARVING MILLIONS

Millions of human beings are starving in Russia. In the Volga regions, with a population of 30,000,000, half will die of famine unless the world outside comes to the rescue. Many have died already. Others so long have borne the hardship of seeking food and finding none, that they cannot be saved. Even now they may be reckoned as with the dead, and happier if their time of agony be short.

There is no occasion to consider at this time the cause of famine; the famine in all its sinister horror is upon the stricken people. Children bear it with least resistance. They perish by the wayside, abandoned by parents who can do nothing for them. In places the corpses are in heaps, none having the strength to bury them. Fields once fertile are barren, bearing no vestige of growth.

The United States government has made an appropriation of $20,000,000 to purchase supplies for Russia. These will be hurried across at a minimum of expense. The tale that ship owners are to charge double for the service is false and unspeakably malicious. But the sum set aside is inadequate. It must be supplemented from private sources. The call is to the individual. The demand is upon personal generosity. The appeal is to all who have "been blessed in basket and store."

Throughout the towns of southern California, as elsewhere, there is an effort to gather contributions in the name of humanity. The money collected will be expended locally for supplies, mostly for flour, and the staples forwarded. All the world discerns a stage of suffering supplicating the mercy of the races. The plea will not go without quick and generous answer here. To help in an emergency so terrible must be the impulse of every normal heart.

THE HARD WAY

Getting money by theft may seem the easiest method. The footpad who puts a gun to the head of a stranger, and deprives him of his purse, thinks he has found the road to fortune. A life of ease, devoid of work appears to stretch before him.

Some night he fails. The chosen victim shoots him or the police get him. His dream is over. If he is sent to prison, his whole future is blighted. The chances are that he will emerge worse than he entered, and die at last either as a criminal or a pauper. The criminal career promises nothing but wretchedness. Its seeming gains are temporary.

In Pasadena recently a bank messenger was robbed of more than $15,000. The circumstances were such that he easily might have been brought under suspicion, but he was not. Because he had character. His honesty was known. It was part of him. The bank retained him in its service.

The robbery had been committed by a citizen who had the respect of many. It seems that they had not known him. There were debts pressing for payment. He held up the messenger, and got away for the time. He could not cover his tracks. Such offenders seldom can. His movements were traced. He was arrested, confessed; is in jail. The virtual finish of a life that might have been useful to the end. The loss of friendships, never to be renewed. An unspeakable hurt in the heart of a faithful wife; remorse, agony, disgrace.

Getting money by theft is not the easiest method. It is a hard and bitter way the transgressor must travel.

DIVISION IN IRELAND

It is with grave apprehension the world must view the attitude that marks the signing of the treaty between England and Ireland.

Previous to the making of the treaty there had been a strong solidarity of the Irish faction that was pressing for freedom. Immediately their efforts had won, what seemed to friends, a signal victory, there was a cleft in the ranks. The one faction, powerful and well-directed, had become two factions. So nearly balanced in number are the opposing sides that the outcome of a contest between them must be regarded as doubtful. The present friction is a sorry outcome of the long struggle. It is disappointing to the friends of Ireland everywhere.

In the United States there were many expressions of sympathy for the Irish cause. Doubtless most of these were sincere. It is equally certain now that some were not inspired of concern for the welfare of Ireland at all. They came from people who for real or fancied grievance, hated England, or who instinctively love contention. Apparently they came in part from false friends, who made a business and a profit by agitation.

The real friends of Ireland and of peace were glad when the treaty was signed. They had urged upon the Irish to sign it. They had told them that the formulation of the treaty, in the terms finally incorporated, would represent a victory. So it did, according to all the beliefs they still entertain, and they regret to see the record marred now by contention and bitterness.

It seems a little singular that the police of any city disturbed by a series of Black Hand murders, should in every instance be so helpless. If these little imported wars cannot be checked, it might be well to encourage them to proceed until forced to die out for lack of material.

The painful report that Katherine Elkins Hitt is about to wed "an obscure Virginian" has its pleasing side. At least he will be lifted from his obscurity for a time.

Muscle Shoals is the real name. It should, of course, be Mussel Shoals, but the first government clerk who had occasion to write the term used the only style of spelling with which he happened to be familiar. Thus was the error embalmed, and it may as well be accepted in perpetuity.

ESSENTIALS TO MARRIAGE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Probably to the end of time people will go on endeavoring to apply intelligence to the marriage problem, and probably for the same period people will continue to make marriages for the most unintelligent of reasons.

Marriage continues because of the urge of a primal instinct, which is nature's argument and the only kind that amounts to anything.

The reason that you cannot disprove marriage is because you cannot prove it in the first place. Whatever you can prove somebody else can disprove. But there is no answer to an instinct.

Nevertheless, here is one more try at it.

We would suggest six essentials to a successful marriage.

1. The first is physical fitness. No amount of romanticism should obscure the fact that the basis of marriage is physical. Therefore, a sound body free from disease and with a reasonable amount of vigor is the prime essential.

2. Children. There have been happy marriages without children, but they are distinctly not the rule. They are the exception. Children is what nature is up to. And when we try to circumvent nature, we are rather sure to fail.

3. Unity. It is all well enough to live one's own life and retain one's own individuality, and not be a slave and all that sort of thing, but unless there is some spirit that shall blend two personalities into one and give them an indissoluble oneness of aim, the prospects are not bright. And there is such a thing as having this unity and also maintaining individuality.

4. A sense of humor, or religion. One of the two is necessary. Both would be better. The reason is that marriage keeps us quite close to realities, and the only way to keep that closeness from boring us or making us petulant and little is either to have a sense of play, which comes from the sense of humor, or have that high devotion which comes from religiosity, and, as above stated, it is possible to have both.

6. Confidence. You can get along without faith anywhere else better than in marriage.

6. Friendship. Love comes with passion, but unless it can pass over into friendship it will die. For passion is essentially temporary. At least, it is rhythmic always. Friendship is constant.

It is well to think of these six points after you have been married awhile and wonder what is the matter. You are not very likely to think of them much before marriage. And perhaps it is just as well. For if you think too long you are likely not to get married at all.

THE LISTENING POST

We have had occasion to state here before that crime in its utilitarian and economic aspect is silly.

Illogical and foolish.

The work of minds that are immature and childish.

The lower the state of intelligence the less looking forward there is.

The higher state of the intelligence the more the thought of consequences.

Deeds are related in the imagination to consequences.

The child stuffs itself.

With sweets.

Because the taste of sweets is pleasing.

And the childish mind has no thought of consequences.

It thinks only in terms of present sensation.

* * *

So as the taste of sweets is agreeable the child keeps on eating sweets.

Until there is gorging and nausea and regurgitation.

That is a natural consequence.

But the childish mind has no thought of consequences.

* * *

A pair of wild boys not many night ago thought to get money easily.

So they set out to hold up somebody.

Without thought of conseguences.

Except that they might get money easily.

* * *

They had no thought to do murder.

Neither had they any thought perhaps that death might come to them.

Their minds were childish.

Had no thought of consequence.

And they held up the wrong man.

Who shot one of them twice with possibly fatal results.

* * *

A pitiful commentary on the silliness and foolishness of crime.

One young man on the death bed and another on his way to prison for a long term.

Because they took no intelligent thought of consequences.

And not many days ago a band of bad men killed two policemen.

And escaped.

To be tracked and identified and brought to book.

Except one.

Who killed himself.

* * *

Four awaiting trial for murder and one self-murdered.

Two officers of the law dead.

Because five men sought to get money easily by burglary.

A fool dreams of getting a large sum of money easily.

By taking it away from someone who may have custody of it.

Like all other fools he does not think of consequences.

He is "too smart" to be caught.

Apprehension and punishment are not in the foreground of the criminal's thinking.

They are always in the background.

The money or profit to be gained is in the foreground.

It would be safer thinking if the consequence was in the foreground.

And the money in the background.

So the fool sets out to get the money.

And gets it.

And like all other fools leaves a trail that leads by some turnings and windings to his door.

* * *

Again we say crime is silly.

Illogical and foolish.

The trading away of many years of possibly happy life for a little pittance of money.

And it is a cowardly thing.

Done by cowardly fools who seek to avoid the fair responsibilities of life.

SONGS OF THE POETS

A Girl of Pompeii—By Edward Sandford Martin (1856——)

A public haunt they found her in:
She lay asleep, a lovely child;
The only thing left undefiled
Where all things else bore taint of sin.

Her supple outlines fixed in clay
The universal laws suspend,
And turn Time's chariot back, and blend
A thousand years with yesterday.

A sinless touch, austere yet warm,
Around her girlish figure pressed,
Caught the sweet imprint of her breast,
And held her, surely clasped, from harm.

Truer than work of sculptor's art,
Comes this dear maid of long ago,
Sheltered from woeful chance, to show
A spirit's lovely counterpart,

And bid mistrustful men be sure
That form shall fate of flesh escape,
And, quit of earth's corruptions, shape
Itself, imperishably pure.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

THE LATE SENATOR PENROSE

[New York Times]

. . . The loss to the administration is irreparable. Party discipline in the senate has been altogether destroyed. There is no majority leader. Mr. Lodge counts for nothing in the senate as it is now made up, and there is no one with even a fraction of Senator Penrose's political force and influence to hold the majority together. The outlook in the senate is particularly discouraging in respect to many measures of importance, notably tax revision, which was merely muddled at the last session, the shipping interest, the tariff, and the bonus proposal, as to which there is no little danger that it may be brought forward as a republican measure.

STRICTLY "ALIEN-AMERICANS"

[St. Paul Pioneer Press]

The avowed purpose of "The Workers Party of America" which is to be established by a group of radicals lately in session in New York is to overthrow the government of the United States by revolution and to establish upon the ruins of representative democracy a class autocracy to be known as the American workers' republic.

Some of the organizations which have been asked to join in this movement are:

The German Workers' Educational society.
The Jewish Socialist Federation.
The Finnish Socialist Federation.
The Jewish Workers' Federation.
The Scandinavian Socialist Federation.
The Greek Socialist Union.
The Irish-American Labor League.
The Hungarian Workers' Federation.
The Italian Workers' Federation.
The Bohemian Socialist Federation.
The Left Wing of the Italian Socialist Federation.
The Socialist Labor Party.
The Jugo-Slav Socialist Federation.

Further comment seems unnecessary. The alien apostles of chaos propose to form an alien republic and the only American thing they propose to retain is the name "America." Of course the movement never will get to first base, but that such a conglomeration may invade the United States, profit by their coming and then plot the destruction of the government which has nutured and cherished them is a sad commentary on the efficacy of immigration laws.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

Inquisitiveness does not bring joy. Neither does greediness. We've all seen the small child afflicted with both. He snatches all toys within reach with no regard for the rights of his playmates, and clutches them to his breast. For what? Just for possession's sake—not because he really wants them.

We punish the child. But we're not so quick to see the faults in ourselves, older grown. We try to plan our lives. We want to be happy, or course. Why shouldn't we? But one of the tragedies of living is rooted in the mistaken idea we have of what will bring lasting happiness. Joy isn't to be found in hurting other lives. Contentment does not spring from the fact that we have ruined or even limited the life of another in order, as we mistakenly think, to enrich our own. Poaching on the preserves of others is a dangerous pastime, as many have found to their despair—when too late.

We don't even need to be high-minded and generous of spirit to understand the reason. If we can be contented to crawl near the ground so long as we go forward at all, we can stop at self-interest as a motive. Every friend is an asset. Every enemy a liability and risk. Which does it pay to gather about us? We can't live to ourselves since life is so inextricably complex, no matter how much we would like to. It's small and entirely unpraiseworthy to work from this basis—but if self-interest is all the spur we can call to our aid, why not do the best we can with that as a starter? We may improve on it later on.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

In recounting the influence of the late Senator Penrose, an admirer tells how the senator threw support to Harding, thus winning a nomination for the latter.

Senator Penrose was sick at the time, unable to leave his bed, yet keeping in constant touch with the convention at Chicago. At one period he had been unconscious. Arousing from coma, he was informed that a deadlock had been reached. He lay for a moment in thought. Then he said: "Call up King, and tell him to throw it to Harding."

Thus are presidents made; good presidents, it may be. Nevertheless the fact that such power to make them rests in the hands of any individual, is a subject for reflection. Perhaps there will be those to question that this exercise of power is in full accord with the spirit of a constitution that provides for popular government.

In the Burch murder trial there have been open charges of perjury. Few criminal trials have the distinction to be conducted without perjury.

Where a set of witnesses swear to a particular state of facts, and another set to a state of facts wholly incompatible with the truth of the other testimony, then that one side has made oath to falsehood is as clear as any proposition could be.

Several swindlers on a large scale have come to grief recently. This is to say, they have been subjected to the discomfort of arrest, and the exposure of their plans has robbed them of profit.

It is not singular that every such swindler should be reported as a "Wallingford," this character out of fiction having become an inspiration, a model and a type.

Fiction that exalts the criminal is debasing.

Only a few days ago C. W. Morse was officially invited to hurry back from Europe and submit to arrest. He had experienced arrest and conviction before. On the former occasion he won his way to freedom by simulating illness.

The point of chief interest just now is that having arrived from overseas on schedule time, he seems to have been permitted to hedge himself about with a very comfortable obscurity. It had not been believed that the government ordered his presence here for the mere purpose of spoiling his vacation abroad.

The government is said to contemplate selling the site of Camp Lewis in the state of Washington. There need be no hesitency in saying that to sell it would be a small piece of business for Uncle Sam.

People of Pierce county, Washington, bonded themselves heavily to purchase a fine tract to be presented to the government on condition that an army post of certain standard be established there. All this was before the war. During the war the post developed into a vast concern. Now that the war is over, and economy has become a watchword, comes the suggestion of sale.

The govenment is without moral right to sell the land. If it must make some disposition of the gift, the only proper course would be to turn it back to the donors, with a check covering several years' rental.

About a year ago a Santa Rosa banker pleaded guilty on twelve counts alleging embezzlement. A recent dispatch concerning him says: "Work is under way to secure a pardon from the President."

George Wharton Pepper, the new senator from Pennsylvania, essays a difficult role. He takes the place of Penrose, who for a long time had been perhaps the most potent individual in the senate, and who had held the most important station in that body.

Pepper is a man of high attainment. Measured by his sheer ability, he would stand head and shoulders above the average senator. Nevertheless the status that his predecessor had won, largely through continuity of service, creates a delicate and trying situation for the appointee.

Recently the police of Los Angeles arrested a man as a pickpocket. He deposited $300 to insure his appearance in court. A little later the case was taken off the calendar, and the money returned. The man is now at liberty to resume his vocation.

It seems that release was not extended as a reward of virtue, the prisoner already being under heavy bond on a charge of felony. Nevertheless, encouragement of picking pockets does not properly constitute the function of a court.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

If I were the head of a school, which, fortunately, I am not, being an irascible and heavy-handed person, I would not bother very much about dates and why battles were lost and the unsavory reputations of a lot of human he-goats. I would hammer one thing into my pupils, if so be it I were a sufficiently heavy hammerer. I'd say to them:

"Learn to use a little common sense. Exercise the brain. Drop a little acid before you accept some one else's statement as pure gold. Consider the probabilities before you say too much."

Not long ago the correspondents attending the arms parley at Washington were entertained at a barbecue near Baltimore. It was a perfectly corking barbecue. During its progress some humorous American circulated among the foreign correspondents present.

"Stick around after the crowd has gone," he said. "We have arranged a typical American entertainment for you."

"What is that?" asked the foreigners.

"We are going to burn a negro at the stake," said the humorist.

He thought that was funny. It never occurred to him that any one would take it seriously. His idea was to try to disabuse the foreign mind of the conviction that all Americans carry two-pound guns under their coat tails and lynch each other on the slightest provocation. He thought that ridicule would penetrate the foreign mind when argument might fail. But the foreign mind is not always penetrable. Now he has discovered to his horror that several of the foreign minds believed him. Some of them think that the burning did not take place merely because of the heated protests made by the civilized persons present. Others think that it did take place. They are sorry they did not wait to see it. It would have furnished them a unique anecdote to take home.

If the foreign minds had stopped to think it over they must have known better. But they did not. All the rest of us are just as impervious to the assaults of common sense. Not so many of us would get killed each year in automobiles if we would only consent to stop, look and listen.

DO YOU KNOW THAT?

Joint Installation In G. A. R. Hall Yesterday

Friday was a big day, an important day in the annals of N. P. Banks Post and Corps, of the Grand Army of the Republic, when a joint installation of officers was held in G. A. R. hall. The plain little frame building so much resembling the country church of 1861 which was a rallying point for so many of the boys of that day who went forth to war, seemed a fitting setting for these ritualistic rites which marked another milestone in the history of the organizations.

It was also a red letter day to the corps because it it was an anniversary. Twenty-four years ago on January 13, 1898, it was organized with 13 charter members and notwithstanding all this combination of thirteens, it has proved one of the most prosperous corps in the state.

Of those 13 charter members five are still living—Marilla Pratt, Adelaide Imler, Clara Calvin, Cora Hickman, and Isabel Moore, all being present except Mrs. Moore.

A fine history of the corps was given by Miss Cora Hickman with many eloquent tributes to departed members of both post and corps.

The post had its official session in the morning when Comrade T. M. Barrett served as installing officer, and Thomas Hull as officer of the day.

The officers installed were: Geo. F. Le Clere of Eagle Rock, commander; W. B. Pratt of Burbank, senior vice-commander; Comrade Kortz, junior vice-commander; T. A. Robinson, quartermaster; Geo. W. Sanford, sergeant; C. H. Clark, adjutant; C. R. Norton, chaplain and patriotic instructor; Robert H. Taylor, officer of the day; Thomas Gillette, color bearer.

While these ceremonies were in progress, a large committee of housewives directed by Mrs. R. L. Milligan, past president of the corps, was busy in the kitchen preparing the big dinner which was served from 12 to 2, covers being laid for not less than 200.

The outstanding feature of the first table was the big golden wedding cake baked by Mrs. C. L. Peckham and placed before Comrade and Mrs. William Collins who were celebrating the 50th anniversary of their marriage. As soon as all had adjourned to the audience hall and arranged their chairs to face the center of the room where the installation ceremonies took place, Chapain Norton called the assembly to order and invited Mr. and Mrs. Collins to take their places on the rostrum and addressed them and the company on the beauty and sanctity of such a record of wedding life as had been enjoyed by the celebrants. In his characteristic manner he infused a vein of humor that saved the situation from embarrassment and at the conclusion of his congratulations and blessing, Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel, on behalf of the corps presented to the blushing bride a silver bread tray, and Robert Taylor, on behalf of the post, bestowed a glass water set

A few moments were allowed for general congratulations and then the corps was called to order by the retiring president, Mrs. Alma Dutton. On her right was her secretary, Mrs. Flora Pixley and on her left her treasurer, Mrs. Houdyshel. From these she called for annual reports.

Mrs. Houdyshel stated that the year has begun with $44 in the treasury which had been augmented by receipts of $761 making a total of $805 of which $666 had been disbursed, leaving a balance of $139, of which $96 had been placed in the savings bank to the credit of the repair fund, the balance being subject to check.

The secretary's report showed an enrollment of 242, and a marked gain in membership and in regularity of attendance.

Mrs. Jennie Phillips, who acted as installing conductor, was instructed to conduct the installing officer, Mrs. Emma Scheer of Santa Monica, to the platform, which she did, Mrs. Scheer receiving the gavel from the hand of Mrs. Dutton.

The salute to the flag was then given by the entire company, the color bearers advancing to the center of the room and grouping their flags above the altar.

The retiring officers were thereupon discharged with words of commendation for their self-sacrificing service and the divine blessing was invoked by the chaplain of the day who was accompanied to the altar by the color bearers.

Officers were then installed, beginning with the first vice-president, junior vice-president and treasurer, the last officer elect to be installed being the president, Mrs. Carolin Kretchmer. In that installation Mrs. Scheer left her seat upon the platform and advancing to the altar under the escort of two color bearers, administered the pledge of office, pinned upon the breast of Mrs. Kretchmer the insignia of her office, and conducted her to the platform.

President Kretchmer then announced her appointees who were duly installed.

Mrs. Scheer commanded the admiration of all by her splendid performance of her task. Before resigning her post she complimented Mrs. Phillips, the conductor, Mrs. Robert Danner, the musician, and the four color bearers for their efficient service. She then formally presented the new officers to the corps, exhorting its members to support them loyally in carrying on the work of the order than which there is no nobler task, she declared.

Mrs. Kretchmer then assumed office and thanked Mrs. Scheer on behalf of the corps for her work, presenting her with a beautiful hand-painted plate as a token of appreciation.

Mrs. Dutton then congratulated her successor in office and presented to her treasurer, Mrs. Houdyshel and her secretary, Mrs. Pixley, pretty gifts of needlework.

On behalf of the corps Mrs. Pixley gave to Mrs. Dutton a beautiful cut glass bowl, saying: "We hope the sparkling dish will always shine as brightly as the love of the corps for you." Mrs. Dutton was delighted with the gift and so expressed herself.

Mrs. Milligan thanked all who had contributed to the luncheon, and Comrade Clark announced a patriotic community sing at Figueroa and Eighteenth street Saturday night which he hoped the comrades and their wives would attend. The audience was then dismissed.

The full list of officers follows: President, Mrs. Carolin Kretchmer; senior vice president, Mrs. Emma Kortz; junior vice president, Mrs. Jennie Tinchnor; treasurer, Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel; chaplain, Mrs. Julina Hayes; conductor, Mrs. Julia Salmacia; assistant conductor, Mrs. Adelaide Chappius; guard, Miss Leonora Skelton; secretary, Mrs. Mary Smith; assistant secretary, Mrs. Anna Page; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Martha Bowen; press correspondent, Mrs. Carrie Wimmer; musician, Mrs. Lillian Peckham; color bearers, Mrs. Brooks Miller, Mrs. Anna Starkey; Mrs. Edith Taven, Mrs. Merle Bowen.

"Ah," he murmured, "I'm glad you've come round! I don't think you paid your admission money, did you?"

ANNUAL SESSION CONGREGATIONAL

Rev. Morgan Isaacs Points to Great Spirit of Unity

The annual business meeting of the Congregational church is always preceded by a big family dinner and last Wednesday evening the feast of good fellowship and appetizing viands was enjoyed by 150 people. Young women of the church served as waitresses and after their duties were over had the satisfaction of being waited upon by their husbands at an extra table.

Rev. E. Morgan Isaac was appointed moderator for the business session. He referred in his opening speech to the spirit of unity in the church that had existed throughout the past year, the harmony and usefulness. Eighty-nine new members had been received, a remarkable number for so small a church. There had been a progressive atmosphere. Metaphysical lectures on Wednesday evenings instead of prayer meetings had brought forth so large an attendance that it had become necessary to hold them in the main part of the church instead of the lecture room, whereas not more than a dozen people had attended the prayer meetings previously held. A united church, he said, can do large things and 100 new members should be secured this year and large committees appointed for the church's activities.

Mrs. Carrie Roberts, clerk of the church, reported 228 members on the roster, 45 of whom were temporarily absent or had moved away, leaving 183 working members. The carefully itemized accounts of the treasurer, W. J. Cook, showed that there are no debts at the end of the year, other than the amount owing the Congregational building fund, on which a payment is made yearly. The Ladies' Aid, Missionary, and Sunday school reports were all gratifying. Before the reading of the trustees' report a motion was made and carried that Jesse H. Taylor, one of the trustees, be made the moderator during the absence of the pastor from the room. Rev. Isaac laughingly retired and M. T. Lee, chairman of the board of trustees, was called on for a report. He emphasized the need of more room for the Sunday school classes and social purposes and suggested the raising of the church and construction of a basement which would conform with the regulations of the new fire ordinance, since a frame addition would not be permissible. No action will be taken on this at present. In consideration of the splendid, wholesouled work the pastor is doing, the trustees recommended that his inadequate salary be increased by the amount of $600, the addition to be made from January 1. A motion to this effect was carried unanimously by a standing vote. The following officers were then elected: Trustees—M. T. Lee, Jesse H. Taylor, F. E. Cole, Geo. F. DeBaum, clerk, Allan Ede, deacon, George Talbot, for three years; deaconesses: Mrs. G. N. Sprague and Mrs. A. W. Lawrence for life, Mrs. A. Westmoreland and Mrs. C. W. Hunt for three years; Sunday school superintendent, Dr. Donald Harden; treasurer for benevolences, Mrs. Lyman Pratt; choir director, Mrs. Paul Elderkin, pianist, Miss Margaret Stuckdisch; music committee, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. C. E. Arbogast, Mrs. George Talbot, Miss Helen Pratt, and a large visiting committee.

EPISCOPALIANS HAVE SESSION

There was a large attendance of the Women's guild of St. Barnabas Episcopal church on Wednesday evening, at the home of Mrs. C. A. McClintic, 210 North Satsuma avenue. Officers for 1922 were elected as follows: President, Mrs. W. C. Genn, vice-president, Mrs. F. S. Thompson; secretary, Mrs. Raymond Behlmer; treasurer, Miss Mary Nash. The retiring president, Mrs. Parker, was given a silver dish in appreciation of her able work.

CENTURY CLUB MET THURSDAY

Has Fine Session With Prominent Guests for the Day

Tables bright with jonquils and Chinese lilies greeted members and guests of the Women's Twentieth Century club, to the number of 125, on the occasion of the January luncheon, on Thursday. Besides the luncheon speaker, Mrs. Hector Moffet of Garvanza, a former president of the Indiana Press association, Mme. Genevra Johnstone-Bishop, John F. Woodhull, Ph. D., of Columbia University, and Rev. E. Morgan Isaac of Eagle Rock, were honored guests. Mrs. Moffetts' topic was "The Philosophy of the Rubaiyat," and her interpretation was spiritual and scholarly. "Western philosophy," she said, "has interpreted the verses of Omar Khayyam in an earthly manner, though they were accepted in Persia as deeply religious. His quatrains in the aggregate portray the awakening of the soul, using some of his words as symbols, which have been taken literally."

The regular club meeting in the auditorium, following the luncheon, opened with a short business session. The president, Mrs. M. T. Lee, then turned the meeting over to the chairman of the day, Mrs. John A. Davis, and she introduced Mme. Bishop, who through her friendship for Mrs. H. L. Terry, one of the club members and an enthusiastic musician, has previously honored this club with addresses and vocal selections. This time she brought four of her most talented pupils, one of whom, Miss Gladys White, only 16 years old, is a resident of Glendale. Accompanied on the piano by Mme. Bishop, the following delightful program was rendered: Waltz Song from "La Boheme," Mrs. Gentry Basket, also a lullaby; Flower Song from "Faust," in Italian, and a new Indian song, "Pale Moon," in Spanish, Miss Gladys White; "Staccato Polka," Mrs. Estrella Conferno Williams; "Chansant d'Amour," and "Habenara" from "Carmen," Mrs. John S. McDonald. This musical treat was highly appreciated by the audience that filled almost every seat in the auditorium.

Dr. Woodhull, the speaker of the afternoon, although for years a staid college professor, proved himself at heart a wag now that he and his wife have forsworn work and since last June have driven a Ford automobile ("the only kind the cross the continent in,") he declared) thousands of miles over the United States, wherever their fancy prompted them to investigate the scenery and the people. His account of some of their experiences was so humorous that it kept laughter "on a hair-trigger." He said they finally came to the conclusion that their education was just beginning. For one thing, he declared, the American farmer is a great man, and not hard-hearted as some people maintain. With one exception, when he was charged 25 cents for "trespassing," he found them generous and companionable, and he enjoyed talking with them. The men of the desert he also found interesting and well poised. The immense distances and solitudes of the west were amazing to him, after the crowded conditions of Manhattan island, where people live above or under each other in tiers. Rivers that grew smaller as they proceeded on their course and finally disappeared were astonishing to him. These and other subjects en route to California he touched upon so humorously that his hearers would have been glad of a longer address, but it was growing late. Rev. Isaac, who had been scheduled for an address, requested a postponement until there would be leisure to do his subject pustice.

The club decided to buy the adjoining lot, on North Kenilworth avenue, to avoid a crowded space in future.

BEST BILL YET AT T.D.&L. THEATER

Vaudeville Events Are All High Class Offerings This Week

The week-end vaudeville road shows which Meiklejohn and Dunn bring to the T. D. & L. theater every Friday and Saturday are something that are looked forward to by all theater goers of Glendale. This week-end the show is particularly well planned.

Tossing people in the air and juggling them with perfect nonchalance, Sebastian Pina, is sure to create much comment in the act which he presents together with the Royal Pina Troupe of whirlwind acrobats. There are several clever children in this act and they too are talented when it comes to furnishing thrills.

The musical end of the bill will be taken care of by a son of sunny Italy, Don Fiatti, one of the best piano accordionists in America. The selections which he renders are truly delightful and his music is sure to please every one who hears him.

Time and Ward, sensational cyclists, have a novel act which takes every audience they play for by storm. Their act contains trick riding as well as feats of daring combined with comedy. Some of the stunts which they perform took them years to learn.

Jack Holt has risen to stardom due to hard work, reinforced by talent. Mr. Holt's progress as a screen player is another demonstration of the fact that personal magnetism coupied with ability to interpret roles naturally, wins a definite place in the photoplay world. "The Call of the North," is the first picture in which Mr. Holt is starred and in it he is said to do some of his finest work.

Theory may be all well enough in its way, but lawyers and physicians prefer practice.

'GYPSY BLOOD' AT T.D.&L. SUNDAY

Pola Negri, brilliant continental star, brings a new type of production to the silent drama, portraying famous women as they really were. She will be here again tomorrow in "Gypsy Blood," at the T. D. & L. theater.

The art of "vamping," practiced throughout the ages, and still in vogue, has probably been developed to a higher degree than any other art.

So far as records indicate, Eve takes the apple as the first "vamp" and since her time vamping has spread to all corners of the globe.

Vamping has been more generally advertised in the last few years, but it has never been more artistically done than in past centuries. Cleopatra of the Nile had a pagan appeal. Catherine of Russia stepped across social boundaries, and history records no man able to resist her wiles. The winning way of Marie Antionette set other standards with royalty as her victims.

In a degree, the influence over a Spanish dragoon, a nobleman and a famous bullfighter is said to be no more graphically described thar by Pola Negri in "Gypsy Blood," the First National special production, adapted from Prosper Merimee's original French story, "Carmen," which will be shown at the T. D. & L. theater tomorrow.

Agnes Cain-Brown To Be Heard In Twilight Concert

No music lover should forget that tomorrow, Sunday, the 15th, the first of the twilight recitals which have been arranged by Harry Girard and which are to be given in the Glendale theater Sunday afternoons at 4 o'clock, will take place.

An outstanding artist in the galaxy of stars who will furnish the entertainment is Mrs. Harry Girard, better known in the professional world of opera as Agnes Cain-Brown. She will be heard to advantage in numbers which will display her golden voice in perfection in solos and also in duet with her distinguished husband.

Besides the vocal and instrumental numbers which will make a program of rare quality, there will be readings by Miss Alma Murphy, readings by Frank C. Egan, and monologues of Charles Evans.

Paul Carson will preside at the organ and Mrs. H. D. Ryus at the piano.

Other singers on the program are Miss Truly Shattuck, soprano; Miss Virginia Ainsworth, contralto; Madge Shalk-Nottage, mezzo-soprano; Carl Cantvoort, baritone; Henri Le Bonte, tenor; Edward Martindel, basso.

The proceeds of the recital will be applied on the organ fund of the Holy Family Catholic church of which Rev. James S. O'Neill is pastor.

The Indian Government is investigating the possibilities of manufacturing paper from bamboo in Burma.

DR. KYLE TO SPEAK HERE ON TUESDAY

On Tuesday evening of next week, Dr. M. G. Kyle will speak at the Presbyterian church. This will be one of the regular services of pre-communion week.

Dr. Kyle is a professor of archaeology in Xenia Theological seminary of the United Presbyterian church in St. Louis, Mo. His subject will be "The Present Christ, the Spirit of the Evangel." Dr. Kyle is known all over the world for his extended studies and many years of original investigation in the field of archaeology. He takes these subjects, which are usually considered as dry as dust, and tells of them in such a manner as to make them glow with interest to his hearers. His sense of humor and his visits to many far eastern lands add much interest to his messages.

Dr. Kyle is delivering a series of addresses at the Bible institute covering a period of three weeks. Many Glendale people have availed themselves of this opportunity of going to Los Angeles to hear him. After completing his work in Los Angeles he will go to China where he will conduct a series of conferences at a number of missionary centers.

UNCLE HENRY FORD STIRS UP FIGHT IN POLITICS

Muscle Shoals Deal Promises to Bring on Battle

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Henry Ford's offer for the great Muscle Shoals nitrate project today was in the realm of politics. Upon the heels of Secretary of War Weeks' announcement that he would send the Ford bid to congress within a short time, it became known that congressional leaders already have discussed the probable effect on the elections next fall of whatever action they may take on it.

One of the liveliest political battles of the last decade is now in prospect. Already the fertilizer and other interests hostile to the Ford offer have started a campaign against it. Ford's friends, who include leading members of the farm bloc, already have mapped out plans to counteract the opposition and they claim to be backed by a rapidly growing sentiment from the agricultural sections for the prompt acceptance of the Ford offer, believing it will provide cheaper fertilizer. Those associated with Ford in the long negotiations with Weeks over the offer assert that the secretary's action in sending it to congress is a virtual acceptance of the bid, although they admit he may not give it his wholehearted indorsement in the "comments" he will make. They point to the fact that the war department is now putting the offer in the form of a contract and that this action indicates a recommendation totally against the offer is completely out of Weeks' mind.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Montgomery of 1700 Kenneth road are expecting their son, Norris Montgomery, to arrive from Phoenix, Ariz., to make them a few days' visit.

A LOT OF HUMAN NATURE

There's a lot of human nature in most all the folks I see,
And I would not be surprised if I had quite a lot in me;
All the famous folks and humble, all the great ones and the small
At the most or least are only human beings after all.
There's some talk of the divinity to hedge about a king;
But it's my profound opinion it's a mighty flimsy thing;
It's the human side of people makes you like them through and through,
As you learn by rubbing elbows with the fellow next to you.

After all, we're much like children, with a lot of games and toys,
With our dreams and disappointments, with our sorrows and our joys,
There's a fellow who is smiling and there's one who's stubbed his toe,
And it's all a human story that is mighty good to know.
You may think you've had a struggle that was more than you deserve,
And to meet the things you had to took a mighty lot of nerve,
But you'll learn you did not have the hardest task of all to do,
When you get to rubbling elbows with the fellow next to you.

You'll learn a mighty lot of things you didn't know before,
Of battles fought by men and won right at your very door;
Of hopes denied and souls kept sweet, and of a friendly smile
From some poor chap whose heart maybe was aching all the while;
You'll learn how men have fought uphill, with grit and strength and cheer,
And you'll clasp many a friendly hand you did not know was near,
You'll find so much that's fine and good and clean you never knew,
When you get to rubbing elbows with the fellow next to you.

Dinner Party—Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Cleghorn of 314 Mira Loma avenue entertained at dinner Thursday night, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dioia, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dioia and Miss Ida Paddi, all of Los Angeles. The centerpieces on the dining table was made up of sweet peas in pastel shades.

Corner Stone—The laying of the corner stone for the new Christian church at the corner of Colorado and Louise streets, will take place Sunday afternoon, February 5th with all ceremonies. The steel girders are now up and the contractors expect to soon lay the floor.

Dr. Gifford Here.—Dr. O. P. Gifford, prominent preacher of the Baptist denomination, spoke at the First Baptist church Thursday night to a large and appreciative audience. He also spoke Friday night at the same place and will deliver both the morning and evening sermon on Sunday at the church.

Buys Apartment—Another example of how the newcomers are putting their faith in Glendale was shown this week. A. Greene of Boston, who came here last winter and returned east last summer, has purchased the Princeton apartments on East Harvard street, which was formerly owned by Miss Baldwin. This makes the third investment Mr. Greene has made in Glendale property. The sale was made by E. L. Schuyler of 124 West Broadway.

Eskimo Pie—The newest eastern delicacy has reached Glendale and Mr. Whitaker, proprietor of the Broadway pharmacy on East Broadway, now has and is serving the tastiest dainty ever offered to the public, "Eskimo Pie." This dainty is a chocolate coated miniature ice cream brick, and is well worth trying.

BIG BOND DEBT IF ANNEXED

matically be boosted about one-third. Glendale's tax rate is now $1.30. This is divided up as follows: General budget, $1.00; park, playgrounds and recreation center, 5½ cents; library, 15½ cents and BONDS 9 CENTS.

Los Angeles taxes are divided as follows: General fund, 95 cents; library, 5 cents; AND BONDS, 50 cents, 4 cents of which Glendale would not have to assume in the event of annexation.

Take five minutes off and think this over—Glendale's taxes on outstanding bonds amounts to 5 CENTS PER ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS, while Los Angeles' tax on outstanding bonds, exclusive of the 4 cents that Glendale would be exempt, amounts to 41 CENTS PER ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS. This 41 cents per $100 valuation would be added to Glendale's present tax rate, while Los Angeles would not assume one penny of Glendale's bonded indebtedness.

It will be noted that Los Angeles gives 5 cents per $100 for libraries, while Glendale pays 5¼ cents. Annexation would mean that the appropriation for libraries would be one-third it is at this time. There would be no need, then, for Glendale's beautiful library. It could be housed, very comfortably, in a garage on the rear of some outlying building lot.

"There are a great many other points that are to be considered in the proposition of annexing of Glendale to Los Angeles," said Mr. Hall, "such as absolutely no representation in city affairs, which would doubtless result in a run-down condition of our road system and other features that are a benefit to the public. However, what we would give and what we would not get will be taken up in a later article."

POINCARE READY TO TAKE BIG POST

PARIS, Jan. 14.—Raymond Poincare, former president of France, who is to head a new government, has been successful in completing his list of cabinet ministers, it was authoritatively stated today. Poincare was expected to notify President Millerand late today or tomorrow of the constitution of the cabinet and to take over the reins of government next week.

POOR HAUL

OMAHA, Jan. 14.—Four bandits this afternoon held up the bank at Florence, Neb., a suburb, locked Cashier R. A. Johnson in the vault and escaped in an automobile with $1,200 in cash.

MARIETTA, O., Jan. 14. — A motrhe and her two sons were burned to death when fire destroyed the home of A. N. Craig near here today. The victims were Mrs. Jane Craig, 36; Lyle, 9, and Donald, 3.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.—Adv.
